

SHELDON + EMILY

Hi there,

We are Sheldon and Emily! We have been together for eight years, married for three and make a great team. We were fortunate to have met in Vancouver and travel the world before deciding to settle down in the city near the beach to start a family together, along with our wonderful rescue dog, Yukon. Sheldon is a realtor with a flexible schedule and Emily works for a large university as an Operations Manager. Though we are both well established in our careers, we try not to take life too seriously and love to relax and have fun. We both look forward to taking time off from work to focus on being loving and supportive parents – and we can't wait for this next chapter of our lives to begin.

SHELDON is a loving, supportive husband. He is non-judgemental and can easily find common ground with anyone he stops to speak with around our city. He is very creative and adventurous. He loves photography, any board sports (like surfing and snowboarding) and adventures with our dog, Yukon. He has an outgoing personality and enjoys hanging out with friends and family. Sheldon is caring, spontaneous, fun and is always making people laugh. He will make a great dad and is excited for this next chapter in his life.

Emily with a rescue dog

EMILY is caring, loving and easy-going. She is an amazing problem solver, is calm under pressure and is always thinking of ways to help others both in her career and in the dog rescue organization that she started and runs with a few friends in her spare time. Emily is always up for an adventure or new challenge. She enjoys spending time with family and friends, rescuing dogs (and cuddling them a lot too), travelling, reading, hiking, snowboarding and yoga. Emily is very empathetic, generous and always puts others first. She will be a fantastic mom and is definitely ready for the challenge and adventure.

FAMILY & FRIENDS

We have a very strong family and friend support network and we both have family members who live nearby who are very supportive and excited about our adoption plans. We also have a diverse group of amazing friends, many with children. Your child would have the opportunity to grow up surrounded by a large circle of family and friends. We cannot wait to take our child on adventures and explore the world together as a family.

OUR COMMITMENT

We value openness, honesty, compassion and understanding; we believe that the people we choose to surround ourselves with share those values. We would look forward to the possibility and opportunity of having a continued relationship with you, to the extent that you are comfortable. Your child would be raised with unconditional love in a supportive home, and we would always welcome you to be a part of our family.

We appreciate you taking the time to read our profile and learn a little bit about us.
